

ENDLESS SUMMER WITH SCUBAVENTURES FUNJUNKIES!

Take your pick of fabulous vacations for 2012. We've got a great line up of vacations in store for divers and non-divers as well. Come along with us on one or all of the trips we've got planned.

Spring Break 2012, quick, easy, inexpensive is what we like for a week of fun in the sun. We have 3 choices for your spring vacation. March 10 is either Allegro Cozumel or Sandos Caracol Resort in The Riviera Maya. Both resorts are kid friendly and you can be there by mid afternoon flying from Grand Junction. Or, the more adult themed Occidental Grand Cozumel March 17. Also includes the flight from Grand Junction. Prices change at the whim of the airlines, so call for details and current prices of any of these, (r somewhere else if you prefer) Spring Break Vacations. And remember, when we get home from this tropical vacation, winter will be over in Colorado. Perfect!

Whale shark –largest fish in the ocean -- Underwater sculptures

Isla Mujeres is home to the largest concentration of whale sharks - the largest fish in the world. We saw over 100 of them at a time during the July 2011 trip. We're going to go see them again in 2012. Get on the list to go... now.

Wakatobi – That pretty much says it all! We've reserved most of the resort for the week of December 7-14, 2012. We'll spend a few nights on Bali on the way there for some relaxation and diving. The resort is small and limited to the number of guests it will accommodate, so get signed up immediately for this vacation to one of the world's best island vacations.
